THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. The former government machine factory has been seized for use as a repair shop for Russian armor. It has been enlarged and modernized to permit major repairs to be made. Axles for prime movers, armored cars and trucks can be handled. Two new ramps are being built in Szinyei-Merse [] to permit the heaviest tanks ingress and egress. 25X1
2. The Mayer auto repair shop is required to work for the Russian Army, although not officially seized. The former owner, Mayer, remains as operational head. He was accorded a considerable credit by the government, at Russian behest, to build two new workshops, equipped with the most modern machinery. A Russian major controls all operations, and is responsible for the quality of the work done.
3. The Russians have taken over the Horváth auto repair shop on Komáromi Street 5. It handles personnel cars and light trucks. They have also taken over the Sabaria garage, which does light repairs and serves as a storehouse for tires.
4. Gasoline and oil is issued to Russian units from the big POL depot in Köszegi Street. Hungarian cars, including those of the Hungarian Army, use the tank installations on Szentháromság tér and in Petöfi Sándor [] Large 25X1 Hungarian busses and heavy trucks are supplied from Komáromi Street.
5. Flour is issued weekly from the food magazine at Petöfi Sándor [] 25X1
6. The main food depots for Russian troops are in Söptei [] Hungarian bakeries produced the bread for the troops from a mixture of 20 percent flour and 80 percent rye flour. The Russian soldiers get 1,000 grams of bread daily. 25X1
